University of London - Corporate Social Responsibility Statement

Introduction

The University of London was founded for public benefit, to promote education of a university standard and the advancement of knowledge and learning, and to provide an institution open to all, irrespective of race, creed or political belief. It is a pioneering institution: making higher education affordable, regardless of gender, location, wealth or religion and accessible to those unable to pursue traditional forms of study anywhere to those anywhere in the world largely through its distance learning programmes. The University also promotes learning and scholarship through our public engagement programme. The University of London is unlike many other universities. It is a federation of 18 autonomous member institutions of outstanding reputation, and a number of highly acclaimed Central Academic Bodies.

This Corporate Social Responsibility Statement ("Statement") covers the activities of the central University. The Central Academic Bodies include the University of London International Academy (UoLIA) which offers distance learning courses to over 50,000 students in 180 countries; the School of Advanced Study (SAS), the UK's only national centre for the support and facilitation of research in the humanities; Senate House Library, a world-leading library with over 2 million items available; and the University of London Institute in Paris (ULIP). The central University also provides innovative, high quality academic support and professional services, including a network of higher education careers services and manages a valuable property portfolio providing academic teaching, library and study spaces, student halls of residence and conference facilities.

Purpose and Usage

This Statement supports our strategic vision which is:

To make a unique contribution to learning and research-led scholarship through our unrivalled network of member institutions, our global reach and reputation, and the breadth of our high-quality innovative academic services and infrastructure.

This statement aims to ensure and reassure that our activities are carried out ethically, sustainably and for the public benefit. The statement achieves this by aligning our key principles and activities with our overarching themes of:

- London and the World
- Access and the Student Experience
- Public Benefit
- Collaboration

Research indicates that organisations which ensure that their activities are carried out in an ethical, sustainable way have a positive impact on the service they provide. The Statement is used to:

- inform University decision-making;
- provide information for partners to enable them to work with us successfully, and;
- provide a framework to guide our work within which our services are delivered;

The Statement is broken down into a series of individual Corporate Social Responsibility ("CSR") principles aligned to key activities and policies we are undertaking, further details of which can be viewed online on our website.
The CSR Statement will be updated annually and formally reviewed once every five years in line with Strategy development.

1. London and the World

Individual CSR Principles

1.1 As a globally connected university, the University of London has a long tradition of welcoming students and staff from the European Union (EU) and across the world. We continue to welcome students, staff and visitors from the EU and beyond, to collaborate on research projects and to maintain our European academic networks.

1.2 We engage with our network of member institutions and the global community to develop our distance learning programmes delivered to 180 countries.

1.3 We undertake national and international research in collaboration with other institutions.

1.4 We are a major landlord, tenant and employer in the local community, with considerable operations in Bloomsbury, other parts of Camden and Westminster.

We act as a custodian of many historic and heritage buildings. While ensuring the historic importance of the estate is protected, the University is also committed to maintaining, enhancing and acquiring its property to ensure that the environment is fit for the highest academic achievement, encourages public access and that developments meet our Sustainable Building Specification.

2. Access and the Student Experience

Individual CSR Principles

2.1 Academic freedom is of paramount importance to the University.

We encourage debate and discussion, and support the right of peaceful protest where this does not threaten the health and safety of staff, students or visitors, and does not infringe upon others’ rights to freedom of expression, freedom of association or any other legally-protected rights and freedoms.

2.2 We deliver programmes in a wide range of disciplines and subject areas through our International Academy, with the programmes priced competitively to enable students, both in the UK and overseas, to widen their access to education.

2.3 We encourage access from students who have work or caring responsibilities by enabling our students to access course materials via a variety of modes so that students are able to choose the mode that suits their lifestyle. We also support students in developing their skills of independent research and online training so that they are able to pursue their studies at a pace that works with their commitments.

2.4 We facilitate access to funding for SAS and ULIP postgraduate students.

2.5 We manage a range of trust funds and endowments which support fellowships and scholarships, prizes, chairs and lectureship funds as well as a range of other awards to assist students and researchers within Member Institutions and the Central Academic Bodies of the University. In this way, we provide opportunities to those whose means may

3. Public Benefit

Individual CSR Principles

3.1 The University is an exempt charity under terms of the Charities Act 2011 and is required to clearly identify benefits related to our charitable aims.

As well as making a significant contribution to the advancement of education, the University, on behalf of the federation, manages a range of trust funds and endowments. Some of the trust funds are used to fund an ongoing series of public lectures, recitals and readings generally in areas connected with the arts and humanities.

3.2 The University ensures that donations received are recognised and expended in line with the intentions of the donor and the University Donor Charter.

3.3 Our ambition is to position the University as a leading centre of excellence for public engagement and we have developed a public engagement strategy to realise this.

3.4 We encourage public engagement and local community involvement through:

- opening up events and facilities to the public
- participation in specific community engagement projects
- access and enhancement to University buildings
- an innovators scheme which offers small grants for researchers to engage with non-academic audiences

3.5 The School of Advanced Study, ULIP, UoLIA and Senate House Library deliver a wide range of academic engagement including seminars, workshops, lectures, and conferences. The majority of events are free and open to the public.

5. Environmental Sustainability

Individual CSR Principles

5.1 We manage the estate to comply with all relevant UK and EU legislative requirements and obligations, and maintain achievement of ISO14001 as the minimum standard for environmental management.

Key activities and policies

Sustainability achievements in 2016 include 40% reduction in CO2 emission since 2010, 50% recycling rate and 100% energy procured from renewable sources.

5.2 We recognise environmental sustainability as one of the greatest challenges of the 21st century and commit to ensuring that all the University strategies and operations consider the environmental aspects and impacts. As part of this commitment we are implementing carbon management projects and practices to achieve carbon savings of 43% by 2020 and 80% by 2050. (in each case, from the 2010 benchmark).

Carbon management project and practices to achieve carbon savings. For example automatic meter reading to effectively measure our energy usage, campaigns to reduce energy use http://www.london.ac.uk/uolcarboncut.html

5.3 We are committed to ensuring staff understand sustainable development and sustainable living. We encourage staff to use sustainable forms of transport through the promotion of cycling, walking and public transport.

We offer our staff public transport and bike loans as well as running regular cycling and walking campaigns.

We do this by:
- promoting and participating in the National Cycle Challenge and the Walk to Work Week
- 100% of our electricity now comes from renewable sources and smart meter coverage has been installed across the estate
- our Sustainability Champion network is working on a Carbon Cut project in an effort to reduce our carbon emissions
- internal auditing is constantly performed to ensure prevention of pollution.

5.4 We developed and implemented a total waste management strategy to reduce waste and increase recycling.

By maintaining bee hives and keeping them in a good condition to pollinate the area. http://www.london.ac.uk/5797.html

5.5 We take action to improve the biodiversity of the surrounding area of the University.
5.6 We encourage healthy and sustainable food options for staff, students and the public by developing a Sustainable Food and Fairtrade Policy and providing sustainable food and beverage options in the University’s catering and hospitality services.

Creating biodiversity action plans to increase biodiversity in collaboration with our grounds maintenance team from Nurture Landscapes

5.7 We are committed to continual improvement of the environmental management system to enhance our environmental performance and we encourage sustainability collaboration through publicising our annual sustainability report, sharing best practice and offering support to the University’s member institutions and the wider higher education community.

Our catering contractor Aramark is committed to environmental sustainability through sustainable waste minimisation, responsible sourcing, efficient operations and fleet management which reduces fuel usage and emissions

6. High Performing Organisation

Individual CSR Principles

6.1 We are committed to being a good employer with a representative and inclusive workforce who contribute positively to the local community, the education sector in the UK and the global community.

6.2 We are committed to ensuring that all staff are fully supported in their work, have a good working environment, are fairly rewarded and are able to maintain a good work-life balance.

This is achieved by putting in place good employment policies, offering competitive terms and conditions to directly employed staff, ensuring contractors do the same for their workforce and enabling new ways of working to allow staff to achieve a better work-life balance.

We conduct and respond to a biennial staff survey. We also engage positively with recognised Trade Unions that represent and protect the interests of their members.

6.3 The University offers a confidential employee assistance programme which offers telephone based support and advice and face to face counselling when needed.

6.4 We are also committed to ensuring staff achieve their full potential through training, mentoring and other staff development activities.

6.5 We are fully committed to embedding considerations of equality, diversity and inclusion in what we do.

6.6 We ensure the financial sustainability of all our operations and endeavour to conduct our business in accordance with the seven Nolan principles on Standards in Public Life. We follow a fair and ethical financial practice with a commitment to responsible procurement and ethical investment.

6.7 We aim to deal with business partners with transparency and fairness and to be compliant with our obligations under all relevant legal, regulatory and tax requirements in all of the jurisdictions that the University and its subsidiaries operate in.

6.8 The University’s investment policy takes account of the level of investment from expendable and permanent endowments, and the perpetual need of these endowments to maintain capital and achieve a return to fund expenditure on activities in line with the purpose of the endowment. It also manages its investments in line with its own ethical investment policy.

6.9 The University’s financial activity is undertaken with reference to agreed guidance and policies. As part of their conditions of employment all staff are required to follow such policies to ensure the University conducts its activity in an appropriate fashion.

6.10 We are committed to responsible and sustainable procurement through our procurement policy and have developed a toolkit to help buyers in the University purchase in a sustainable way. This includes challenging our suppliers to provide the University with sustainable products and services.

6.11 We are proactively examining supply chain transparency with respect to the Modern Slavery Act 2015, for example in relation to our Collection Management Policy in the Senate House Library.
