

University of London - CoSector

Freedom of Information Act Publication Scheme

CoSector's Publication Scheme is based on the Model Publication Scheme for Wholly Owned Companies as defined by the Information Commissioner's Office.

The Schemes set out the classes of information that the University publishes or intends to publish, the manner in which this information will be published and whether the information is available free of charge or on payment.

The information listed in the schemes is available free of charge unless otherwise stated.

What we spend and how we spend it

The University routinely publishes financial information in its annual financial statements, which include details of its funding, budget information and financial audit reports. The principles that underpin all financial transactions undertaken by or on behalf of the University are published in the Financial Regulations. The University of London is an exempt charity in England and Wales.

Details of staff pay, pensions and superannuation can be found in the Terms and Conditions of Employment for the staff of the Central Academic Bodies and central activities of the University of London and staff salary scales are also published.
