Important information regarding the Programme Regulations

About this document

Last revised 31 August 2016

As a student registered with the University of London you are governed by the current General Regulations and Programme Regulations associated with your programme of study.

The Programme Regulations are designed and developed by the College of the University of London responsible for the programme and they normally take account of the associated arrangements within the College. Programme Regulations, together with the Programme Handbook, will provide the detailed rules and guidance for your programme of study. Further information about how to use the Programme Regulations and Programme Handbook can be found in the Student Guide.

In addition to Programme Regulations you will have to abide by the General Regulations. These regulations apply to all students registered for a programme of study with the International Academy and provide the rules governing registration and assessment on all programmes; they also indicate what you may expect on completion of your programme of study and how you may pursue a complaint, should that be necessary.

Programme Regulations should be read in conjunction with the General Regulations.

A Glossary provides an explanation of the terms used in this document.

If you have a query about any of the programme information provided please contact us. You should use the ask a question tab in the student portal <https://my.londoninternational.ac.uk>.

To note:

Throughout the Regulations, 'we' 'us' and 'our' mean the University of London; 'you' and 'your' mean the student, or where applicable, all students.

This programme is offered for the first time this year

1 Registration

Effective date of registration

1.1

Your effective date of registration will be 1 April if you register in March/April, or 1 October if you register in September/October, of the year in which you initially register.

1.2

Your effective date of registration allows you to be examined at the next opportunity:

- August of the same year if you register in April or
- February of the following year if you register in October.

Period of registration

See the Programme Specification for the minimum and maximum periods of registration applicable to this programme.

See Glossary for the definition of 'effective date of registration'.

2 Accreditation of prior learning and credit transfer

To be read in conjunction with the General Regulations, Section 3.

Accreditation of prior learning

2.1

Within this programme there is no provision for accreditation of prior learning.

3 Module selection

Appendix A provides details of the programme structures and module titles.

3.1

You may normally only register for one module per study session. Modules are normally run in two sessions throughout the year, each comprising 16 weeks of study. In exceptional circumstances and having shown sufficient progression in the programme, you may apply to the Programme Director to study two modules in one session. The core modules, Global Diplomacy: The Art of Negotiation and Economy, Politics and Society in South Asia, will run in every session. Other modules will run subject to availability.

3.2

You may apply to change your choice of module up to two weeks before the start date for that module. If you have already begun studying the module your application will not be considered.

4 Assessment for the programme

4.1

Assessment methods

Each module for the MA in Global Diplomacy: South Asia, with the exception of the Dissertation module, will be assessed by the completion of a 4000–5000 word essay for e-tivity 6 submitted through Turnitin to a fixed deadline following a 16-week study session.

See Glossary for the definition of ‘assessment’

4.2

The Dissertation module will be assessed by submission of a 1500-word dissertation proposal and the submission of a written dissertation, of approximately 15000 words, excluding the bibliography and appendices. The overall mark for the Dissertation will be based on the combined marks for the dissertation and the research proposal, scaled to account for, respectively, 85% and 15% of the overall mark for the module. You are required to complete the e-tivities in the four dissertation development stages and submit both elements of assessment to complete the Dissertation module.

4.3

E-tivities must not be longer than the word limits stated in the instructions for the e-tivity:

- The word count does not include footnotes (provided they contain a reference and are not part of the assessment), endnotes, bibliography and figures.
- Tables which contain text will be included in the total word count, whilst tables which contain numerical data will not.

If an assignment exceeds the word limit by the amounts specified below, the Associate Tutor or the Module Convenor will implement the following deductions. For e-tivities 2, 3 and 5 for all modules, the following deductions will apply:

Excess Length	Mark Deduction
Up to and including 30%	1 mark
More than 30%	The work may be submitted and will be accepted. It will not be marked and will be assigned a mark of 0

For e-tivity 4 and e-tivity 6 for all modules, the dissertation proposal and the final dissertation, the following schedule of deductions will apply:

Excess Length	Mark Deduction (deductions for dissertation give in parentheses)
Up to and including 10%	1 mark (5 percentage points)
More than 10% up to and including 20%	2 marks (10 percentage points)
More than 20% up to and including 30%	3 marks (15 percentage points)
More than 30%	The work may be submitted and will be accepted. It will not be marked and will be assigned a mark of 0

Submission of e-tivities and the dissertation

4.4

Your completed e-tivities must be submitted via the Online Learning Environment no later than the submission dates given on the module timetables.

4.5

An e-tivity may be submitted late only with the approval of the Programme Director who, in giving permission, will specify the additional period allowed. E-tivities that are submitted late without such permission will be subject to penalties and may be returned unmarked.

4.6

With each e-tivity you must accept the no plagiarism declaration via the online submission procedure to confirm that the completed e-tivity is all your own work (except where the terms of the e-tivity require drawing on the work of others) and that there has been no plagiarism.

4.7

It is your responsibility to retain a copy of your e-tivity in the event of any electronic difficulties in its submission to, or return from, us.

4.8

You are strongly advised to work with your appointed supervisor in the preparation of your dissertation. Full details of the responsibility of the supervisor, including the responsibility to review draft chapters, will be supplied as part of your learning materials following registration on the dissertation module.

4.9

If you are submitting a dissertation you must submit an electronic copy of the completed dissertation via the Online Learning Environment, to arrive not later than the relevant submission deadline.

4.10

We will provide you with feedback on all of your e-tivities across all of your modules.

5 Number of attempts permitted at an examination

5.1

The maximum number of assessed attempts permitted at e-tivity 4 and e-tivity 6 for each module is two. For all other e-tivities, a third attempt may be permitted at the discretion of the Programme Director.

5.2

If you wish to suspend your study of a module we will carry forward the mark for any e-tivity already completed for that module.

5.3

If you submit a dissertation that is otherwise adequate but requires minor amendment, the Examiners may require you to make any amendments specified by them and to re-submit the dissertation within a period of four weeks, unless otherwise specified by the Examiners. If the dissertation is failed completely, you will be required to submit a new dissertation proposal within a period of four weeks. Submission of the final dissertation will be required within a period determined by us, normally within six months of the submission of the new dissertation proposal.

6 Progression within the programme

See section 4 for method of assessment.

6.1

For the MA and Postgraduate Diploma you are required to study either of the core modules, Global Diplomacy: The Art of Negotiation or Economy, Politics and Society in South Asia, during the first study session following your registration on the programme. This will be followed by the second core module in your second study session. You will then be expected to complete two subject modules during the next two consecutive study sessions. Subject modules are offered subject to availability and may be studied in any order.

6.2

For the Postgraduate Certificate you are required to study either of the core modules, Global Diplomacy: The Art of Negotiation or Economy, Politics and Society in South Asia, during the first study session following your registration on the programme. This will be followed by the second module in your second study session. Subject modules are offered subject to availability and may be studied in any order.

6.3

You must attempt and pass e-tivity 6 of a module before being allowed to progress to your next module.

6.4

You should attempt each e-tivity for a module. If you sit e-tivity 6 for a module for which you have an incomplete e-tivity record we may determine that you have not completed the module's examination criteria and you will receive no mark for your performance in that component.

6.5

The Dissertation module is presented in four stages, which will follow each of your modules, and you must complete each stage to pass the dissertation. The fourth and final stage of the dissertation module will include a dedicated writing-up period prior to submission.

See Regulations 7.8 and 7.9 for completion of dissertation development stages for PGDip and PGCert respectively

6.6

You will be expected to submit your dissertation proposal before attempting your third module.

6.7

There is no automatic progression, but if you successfully complete a Postgraduate Certificate or Postgraduate Diploma you may transfer to the related Postgraduate Diploma or MA offered under these regulations and receive appropriate credits.

7 Schemes of award

7.1

Modules are marked according to the following scales:

Mark range
70+	Distinction
60-69	Merit
50-59	Pass
0-49	Fail

7.2

To calculate the mark for a module, the combined marks for e-tivities 2, 3, 4 and 5, comprising 30% of the module mark, are added to the mark obtained for the examination of e-tivity 6, scaled to 70%.

The maximum marks available for e-tivities 1 to 5 are as follows:

- E-tivity 1: Access and socialisation – 0
- E-tivity 2: Library information retrieval – 5
- E-tivity 3: Literature critique (directed) – 5
- E-tivity 4: Essay proposal – 15
- E-tivity 5: Literature critique (bespoke) – 5

7.3

In order to pass any module, including the dissertation, you must achieve an overall mark of at least 50%.

7.4

The mark received for a re-submitted e-tivity 6 for all modules will be capped at 50%. The mark received for a resubmitted e-tivity 4 will be capped at 7.5.

7.5

For the Dissertation module, the marks obtained for the dissertation proposal and final written dissertation, appropriately scaled, are combined to produce the overall mark for the module. The final dissertation is marked out of 100 and is scaled to account for 85% of the module grade. The dissertation proposal is marked out of 15 and will account for the remaining 15% of the grade.

7.6

Any marks received for resubmitted dissertations, whether on the same topic or a new topic, will be capped at 50%.

7.7

For the award of the MA in Global Diplomacy: South Asia, you must have attempted and passed all four modules and the Dissertation.

7.8

For the award of Postgraduate Diploma in Global Diplomacy: South Asia you must have attempted and passed all four modules and you will also have to pass all four of the South Asia focused dissertation development stages. You will undertake and complete the formative e-tivities in the dissertation module.

7.9

For the award of the Postgraduate Certificate in Global Diplomacy: South Asia you must have attempted and passed one core module plus one subject module and you will also have to pass two of the South Asia focused dissertation development stages. You will undertake and complete the formative e-tivities in the dissertation module.

7.10

To calculate the final grade, all modules, with the exception of the Dissertation module, are weighted equally. The Dissertation is double weighted.

7.11

In order to be considered for the award of:

- Merit - you must obtain a mark of 50% or more in each module, a mark of 60% or more for the Dissertation and a weighted average mark of 60% across all modules.
- Distinction - you must obtain a mark of 60% or more in each module, a mark of 70% or more for the Dissertation and a weighted average of at least 70% across all modules.

Appendix B – Assessment criteria

These guidelines reflect the standards of work expected at postgraduate level.

The following criteria will be used in determining the marks awarded for the final written dissertation. The same criteria will be used in assessing the standard of work achieved for e-tivity 4 and e-tivity 6 for all modules and for the dissertation proposal. The dissertation and e-tivity 6 are marked out of 100 and the dissertation proposal and e-tivity 4 are marked out of 15 and scaled accordingly.

Distinction 80+ / 15

A mark of 80+ will fulfil the following criteria:

- very significant ability to plan, organise and execute independently a research project or coursework assignment;
- very significant ability to evaluate literature and theory critically and make informed judgements;
- very high levels of creativity, originality and independence of thought;
- very significant ability to evaluate critically existing methodologies and suggest new approaches to current research or professional practice;
- very significant ability to analyse data critically;
- outstanding levels of accuracy, technical competence, organisation, expression.

Distinction 70-79 / 12-14

A mark in the range 70-79 will fulfil the following criteria

- significant ability to plan, organise and execute independently a research project or coursework assignment;
- clear evidence of wide and relevant reading, referencing and an engagement with the conceptual issues;
- capacity to develop a sophisticated and intelligent argument;
- rigorous use and a sophisticated understanding of relevant source materials, balancing appropriately between factual detail and key theoretical issues. Materials are evaluated directly and their assumptions and arguments challenged and/or appraised;
- correct referencing;
- significant ability to analyse data critically;
- original thinking and a willingness to take risks.

Merit 60-69 / 10-11

A mark in the 60-69 range will fulfil the following criteria:

- ability to plan, organise and execute independently a research project or coursework assignment;
- strong evidence of critical insight and thinking;
- a detailed understanding of the major factual and/or theoretical issues and directly engages with the relevant literature on the topic;

- clear evidence of planning and appropriate choice of sources and methodology with correct referencing;
- ability to analyse data critically;
- capacity to develop a focussed and clear argument and articulate clearly and convincingly a sustained train of logical thought.

Pass 50-59 / 7.5-9

A mark in the range 50-59 will fulfil the following criteria:

- ability to plan, organise and execute a research project or coursework assignment;
- a reasonable understanding of the major factual and/or theoretical issues involved;
- evidence of some knowledge of the literature with correct referencing;
- ability to analyse data;
- shows examples of a clear train of thought or argument;
- the text is introduced and concludes appropriately.

Fail 40-49 / (6-7.49)

A Fail will be awarded in cases in which there is:

- limited ability to plan, organise and execute a research project or coursework assignment;
- some awareness and understanding of the literature and of factual or theoretical issues, but with little development;
- limited ability to analyse data;
- incomplete referencing;
- limited ability to present a clear and coherent argument.

Fail 20-39 / (3-5)

A Fail will be awarded in cases in which there is:

- very limited ability to plan, organise and execute a research project or coursework assignment;
- fails to develop a coherent argument that relates to the research project or assignment;
- does not engage with the relevant literature or demonstrate a knowledge of the key issues;
- incomplete referencing;
- contains clear conceptual or factual errors or misunderstandings;
- only fragmentary evidence of critical thought or data analysis.

Fail 0-19 / (0-2)

A Fail will be awarded in cases which:

- no demonstrable ability to plan, organise and execute a research project or coursework assignment;
- little or no knowledge or understanding related to the research project or assignment;
- little or no knowledge of the relevant literature;
- major errors in referencing;
- no evidence of critical thought or data analysis;
- incoherent argument.

The following criteria will be used in determining the marks awarded for activities 2, 3 and 5 for each subject module:

5 /5

- Thorough critical analysis of a range of arguments from a wide literature (e.g. considers criticisms and defences of positions discussed and provides a clear and convincing position of own view derived from this discussion)
- Concise and well-structured
- Provides original arguments (e.g. makes original connection to wider academic debates, formulates an innovative criticism/defence)
- Very clear expression

4/5

- Broad understanding of topic
- Refers to relevant wider literature
- Engagement with academic debate on topic
- Well written
- Appropriate structure
- Some critical analysis with arguments (is able to consider criticisms and defences of positions discussed)

3/5

- Relevant answer to topic
- Satisfactory understanding and broadly accurate understanding
- Proper referencing
- Clear expression

2/5

- Limited relevance to topic
- Partial/incomplete understanding
- Unclear expression
- Poor referencing

1/5

- Submitted according to instructions
- Shows basic academic skills such as locating relevant articles through appropriate search tools such Library catalogue
- Errors in understanding
- Absence of analysis

0/5

- Failure to submit in accordance with instructions
- Unable to illustrate basic academic skills in any meaningful capacity.
- Absence of understanding
