Important information regarding the Programme Regulations

About this document

Last revised 18 April 2018

As a student registered with the University of London, you are governed by the current General Regulations and Programme Regulations associated with your programme of study. These Programme Regulations are designed and developed by the University of London.

In addition to Programme Regulations, you will have to abide by the General Regulations. These apply to all University of London students and provide the rules governing registration and assessment on all programmes; they also indicate what you may expect on completion of your programme of study and how you may pursue a complaint, should that be necessary. Programme Regulations should be read in conjunction with the General Regulations.

Further information about your programme of study is outlined in the Programme Specification which is available on the relevant Courses page of the website. The Programme Specification gives a broad overview of the structure and content of the programme as well as the learning outcomes students will achieve as they progress.

If you have a query about any of the programme information provided please contact us. You should use the ask a question tab in the student portal <https://my.londoninternational.ac.uk>.

Terminology

The following language is specific to the Professional Accountancy programme:

Module: Individual units of a programme are called modules. Each module is a self-contained, formally structured learning experience with a coherent and explicit set of learning outcomes and assessment criteria.

Pathway: The descriptor for the two different programme structures offered under this award. Which to select is determined by student's ACCA status and papers passed.

To note

Throughout the Regulations, 'we' 'us' and 'our' mean the University of London; 'you' and 'your' mean the student, or where applicable, all students.

Changes to Professional Accountancy Pathway 2 Regulations 2018-2019

The Programme Regulations have been updated to reflect that the Professional level of the ACCA Qualification will become Strategic Professional from September 2018 - featuring two new exams. The Strategic Business Leader (SBL) exam will replace the P1 and P3 exams, and the Strategic Business Reporting (SBR) exam will replace the P2 exam. Additionally, the Fundamentals (F1 to F9) will now be referred to as Applied Knowledge and Applied Skills exams. Further information can be found here: www.accaglobal.com/ca/en/student/changes-to-exams/professional-level.html

Appendix A – Module outlines

See the module specifications for more information about the module content:

Global issues for the finance professional [PAM100]

This module provides a theoretical and practical understanding of the evolutionary nature and applications of the conceptual frameworks of finance and accounting that have arisen from changes in the external global environment. The emphasis is on the practical problems to which analysis of existing, proposed and potential principles, and the evaluation of the options available, may make a positive contribution to wider professional understanding and knowledge. The nature of the module is such that under each of the Themes included, specific content reflects a wide range of contemporary ideas, issues and challenges. This allows for assessment to draw upon relevant aspects as they evolve in ever-changing world.

The module provides students an opportunity for reflection in the context of their own workplace, for those who are in work.

Strategic financial project [PAM006]

This module is a two-part module where first of all students will have an opportunity to develop knowledge of research methodologies, and secondly apply these skills to the collection and analysis of data within a simulated accounting/finance related scenario. This will involve identifying and analysing data and information in relation to business challenges, researching alternative solutions, and applying a judgement based assessment of the evidence.

Students must complete one item of coursework. The coursework is worth 30% of the marks and will demonstrate their knowledge and research skills based upon the first half of the module. The final assessment is based upon the module as a whole and is submitted at the end of the module. The final assessment is worth 70% of the marks. The format of this will depend on the question that is set each time. For example, students may be asked to submit a report directed to a management board or a governing body as part of the project brief amongst other related tasks. During the second-half of the module students will be required to work in teams with other students on the module. This team activity will require students to engage in a simulation activity that will take place over 5 consecutive weeks during the module. It will be expected that students will participate as there will be learning points which will feed into their final assessment. Dates of assessment submissions can be found on the VLE and are session specific.
