Important information regarding the Programme Regulations

Last revised 24 April 2018

About this document

As a student registered with the University of London you are governed by the current General Regulations and Programme Regulations associated with your programme of study.

These Programme Regulations are designed and developed by the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE), which is responsible for the academic direction of the programme. The regulations take account of any associated arrangements at the LSE. Programme Regulations, together with the Programme Handbook, will provide the detailed rules and guidance for your programme of study. Further information about how to use the Programme Regulations and Programme Handbook can be found in the Student Guide.

In addition to Programme Regulations you will have to abide by the General Regulations. These regulations apply to all students registered for a programme of study with the University of London and provide the rules governing registration and assessment on all programmes; they also indicate what you may expect on completion of your programme of study and how you may pursue a complaint, should that be necessary.

Programme Regulations should be read in conjunction with the General Regulations.

Terminology

For EMFSS BSc and Graduate Diploma you should note the following:

Course: Individual units of the programme are called courses. Each course is a self-contained, formally structured learning experience with a coherent and explicit set of learning outcomes and assessment criteria.

Prerequisite: A course that must be passed before you are permitted to register for another particular course.

Co-requisite: A course that must be registered for and examined either before or at the same time as another course.

To note:

Throughout the Regulations, ‘we’ ‘us’ and ‘our’ mean the University of London; ‘you’ and ‘your’ mean the student, or where applicable, all students.

If you have a query about any of the programme information provided please contact us. You should use the Ask a question tab in the Student portal.

Programme overview

1.1
Each course of an Economics, Management, Finance and the Social Sciences (EMFSS) programme is called a 100 course, 200 course or 300 course.

In the context of UK higher education, the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications (FHEQ) levels are as follows:
- 100 courses are equivalent to Level 4
- 200 courses are equivalent to Level 5
- 300 courses are equivalent to Level 6

1.2
Two half courses (15 credits each) are equivalent to one full course (30 credits).

1.3
You can only pair 100 level half courses with other 100 level half courses. You may not pair a 100 half course with a 200 or 300 half course.

See regulations 3.4 - 3.5 in Appendix D: Scheme of award for information on paring courses for classification.

Degrees

1.4
Each degree through the Standard Route comprises 12 full courses (or equivalent).

For students first registered for a degree from 2016-17: To be considered for the award, you must attempt 12 full courses (or equivalent), and pass a minimum of 11 full courses (or equivalent).

For students who have registered for a degree in 2015-16 or earlier (until 2020-21): To be considered for the award, you must attempt 12 full courses (or equivalent), and pass a minimum of 10 full courses (or equivalent).

Each degree through the Graduate Entry Route comprises nine full courses (or equivalent). To be considered for the award, you must attempt and pass all nine full courses (or equivalent).

More details about how to progress through the programmes can be found in Section 7: Progression within the programme and in Appendix D: Scheme of award.

1.6
If you register for a Standard Route degree, you may apply for accreditation of prior learning (APL) for up to four 100 courses. No APL is allowed for the degrees through the Graduate Entry Route.

Details about credit and APL can be found in Section 2: Credit transfer and accreditation of prior learning.
1.7
You may be allowed to transfer between different degrees and from one Route to another of the same degree. You may also progress from an Individual Course, Access route, the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences, Diploma in Economics or Diploma in Social Sciences to a degree. You cannot transfer to a Graduate Diploma.

Details about transferring can be found in Section 8: Transfer of registration

Graduate Diplomas
1.8
Each Graduate Diploma consists of four full courses (or the equivalent).
1.9
No accreditation of prior learning is permitted.
1.10
You may apply to transfer between the different Graduate Diplomas and may be awarded credit. It is not possible to transfer to or from a Graduate Diploma to or from any other EMFSS award.

Details about transferring can be found in Section 8: Transfer of registration

Exit awards
1.11
If you are registered on a degree and you are unable to complete your studies, you may be eligible for one of the following exit awards:

- Diploma of Higher Education (DipHE) - may be awarded to a student who has achieved passes in eight full courses, or equivalent (240 credits), including a minimum of 90 credits at Level 5 or 6
- Certificate of Higher Education (CertHE) - may be awarded to a student who has achieved passes in four full courses, or equivalent (120 credits)

1.12
Exit awards are offered at the discretion of the Board of Examiners. Once a student has accepted an exit award their registration will cease and they will not be permitted to continue their studies. Permission may be granted to register afresh in a different subject area but this is at our discretion and is subject to regulation 3.3.

1.13
Exit awards are unnamed.

Further information about exit awards can be found in Appendix D: Scheme of award
Choice of courses

1.14
You may change your choice of course provided that you can meet all of the following requirements:

- you are not yet eligible for the award;
- you have not entered the examination for the course you want to change from;
- an alternative course is available and you are eligible to register for it;
- you can meet the co-requisites and prerequisites for the new course (degree students only).

Prerequisites are shown in the programme structures and Selection groups in Appendix A in brackets next to the course names. Co-requisites are indicated by a black triangle in front of the course name.

If you are registered for a degree and you change to a new course, you must ensure you meet the prerequisites. New courses which replace old courses may have different prerequisites.

If you are registered for a Graduate Diploma you do not need to meet co-requisites or prerequisites but are strongly advised to be prepared for the high academic requirements of the courses.

1.15
If you have entered the examination for a course, you may apply to change to a different course if you meet the other conditions in 1.12, but all decisions will be at our discretion.

1.16
Where a course has been replaced by a new course, it is strongly recommended that you change to the new course wherever possible if you have failed or not attempted the ‘old’ course.

In the unlikely event that we recommend you continue with a course that is being replaced, this will be stated in the ‘Notes’ section of the programme structures in Appendix A.

1.17
If you have failed the last available resit examination for a course which has been replaced, you must change to the new course unless your programme structure allows you to change to an alternative course.

Information on the number of attempts permitted can be found in Section 5: Number of attempts permitted at an examination.

1.18
Not all courses will necessarily be available for study at all institutions recognised to teach the programmes.
2 Credit transfer and accreditation of prior learning

This section is to be read in conjunction with Section 3 of the General Regulations.

Accreditation of prior learning (APL)

Discretionary APL

Applications for discretionary APL are considered on a strict course for course basis. Decisions are taken based on the syllabus, the level of examination performance and the comparability of the courses.

2.1 Applications for APL will be considered either on a discretionary or automatic basis for any 100 course. APL will not be considered for 200 or 300 courses.

2.2 APL can be awarded for a maximum of four full courses (or equivalent). It will only be considered for Standard Route degrees.

2.3 Where APL is awarded for a named course, you will be able to use that APL where that course is named as a prerequisite. APL for unnamed courses may not be used to meet prerequisite requirements.

2.4 APL will not be granted on the basis of GCE A levels or school leaving certificates. With the exception of the qualifications noted in the APL section on our website, APL is not normally granted on the basis of examinations from professional institutions.

2.5 If you are applying for discretionary APL, consideration will also be given if you have completed part of a degree-level qualification that has been examined within five years of your application.

2.6 If you are applying for APL on the basis of a qualification that has not yet been awarded, it will be considered under the rules governing APL with reference to the date of award, not the date of application to the University.

The deadline to apply for APL to be considered for the upcoming academic year is 1 October.
Automatic APL

2.7
In order for an application for automatic APL to be considered, you must:

- have passed the whole qualification on the basis of which you are claiming APL, unless otherwise stated in the Automatic Accreditation of Prior Learning table, and
- have already received the final award for that qualification unless otherwise stated in the Automatic Accreditation of Prior Learning table, and
- have obtained all the qualifications on which the application for APL is based within the five years preceding the application.

2.8
If you hold any of the qualifications listed in the Automatic Accreditation of Prior Learning table, you will not be asked to pay the APL application fee for consideration of these courses but must still submit an application.

When automatic APL is granted for alternative courses in the table of Automatic Accreditation of Prior Learning (for example APL for MN1178 Business and management in a global context or One unnamed 100 course), only one of these two credits can be counted towards your degree and the following rule will apply:

- if the named course (MN1178 in the above example) is available on the degree you are registered on or will be registering for, then APL for this course will be counted towards your degree; or
- if the named course is not available on the degree you are registered on or will be registering for, then APL for One unnamed 100 course may count towards the degree, if the degree structure allows.

Automatic APL will be granted for up to the maximum four courses for the degree you are registering for/have registered on. If you qualify for APL for a course which is not available on the degree, then it will be noted but not applied to your record. If you later transfer your registration to another degree where that APL is available, it will then be applied to your record as long as it is still valid.

Unnamed 100 courses

2.11
APL is normally considered for named courses. However, in certain circumstances and if you can meet relevant criteria, we may decide to award APL for one unnamed 100 course on a discretionary or automatic basis.

2.12
Where APL is granted for an unnamed 100 course, the APL will be placed at the point on the degree structure marked with a black diamond symbol (♦) in Appendix A of the Regulations.
2.13

On transfer to a different degree through the Standard Route, APL previously granted from a named course may be used as One unnamed 100 course provided that:

- the named course is not available on the degree you are transferring to; and
- this is allowed on the structure of the degree you are transferring to.

Credit transfer

2.14

Credit transfer can be considered for degrees studied through the Standard Route. It can also be considered for degrees studied through the Graduate Entry Route and the Graduate Diplomas, subject to regulation 2.15.

2.15

Credit transfers are only allowed at our discretion for the degrees studied through the Graduate Entry Route or the Graduate Diploma if they have originated from an EMFSS Individual Course, passed within five years of your effective date of registration on your current programme.

All enquiries relating to transferring, cancelling or resuming your registration should be submitted to us in writing through your Student Portal.

If you complete an EMFSS award and then register for a further EMFSS programme, you will not normally be allowed to re-register for a course you have already passed.

If you have already passed a course that is compulsory on the structure of the new programme, you will need to apply to the LSE Office for University of London to substitute this course with another from a limited selection group.

If you have failed a course on the previous programme you will be allowed to take it again with the full number of attempts.

This regulation does not apply when progressing from the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences, Diploma in Economics or Diploma in Social Sciences to a degree, as your credits will be transferred across where possible.

4 Assessment for the programme

Information on coursework and project requirements are in the subject guides and the VLE.

Assessment methods

4.1

Each full course is examined by one three-hour unseen written examination.

Each half course is examined by one two-hour unseen written examination.

The exceptions to this are:

- The following courses are examined by one three-hour and 15 minutes unseen written examination, including reading time:
  - AC1025 Principles of accounting
  - AC2091 Financial reporting
  - AC2097 Management accounting
- The following course is assessed by a project report and evaluation form:
  - IS3159 Research project in digital innovation
- The following courses are assessed by coursework in addition to unseen written examinations:
  - IS1060 Introduction to information systems
  - IS2182 Innovating digital systems and services
  - IS2184 Information systems management
  - IS3139 Software engineering: theory and application
  - ST2187 Business analytics, applied modelling and prediction
  - ST3188 Statistical methods for market research
  - ST3189 Machine learning
Students studying law courses (any course in Selection groups F2 or L) should refer to the Undergraduate Laws VLE for further information on assessment methods.

4.2

If you enter an examination you must be examined in all elements of the assessment set for that course in the same academic year. If you fail to submit the required coursework for a course but sit the written paper or vice-versa, you will normally be judged to have not completed the assessment. You will receive a result of attempt incomplete for the course.

Receiving a result of attempt incomplete will count as an attempt at the examination, but will not count towards the number of courses completed to assess your eligibility to graduate.

If you submit your coursework late you may be issued with a penalty.

Regulation 4.2 is not applicable for the course LA1031 Legal system and method. For more details about the assessment for this course please refer to the relevant course area in your VLE.

If you are taking law courses

4.3

In the examination for law courses (any course in Selection groups F2 or L), questions may be set on recent legislation and current proposals for law reform within the scope of the syllabus. You will be expected to be familiar with developments in the law occurring up to 15 February in the year of the examination.

If you are registered for the BSc Accounting with Law, BSc Management with Law or BSc Sociology with Law, you should note that at the request of the Solicitors Regulation Authority and the Bar Standards Board, we will provide these bodies with details of proven assessment offences, including any action we have taken.

Date of examinations

4.4

Timed written examinations take place in May/June each year.

4.5

You are responsible for submitting your coursework to us, and for ensuring that your work is submitted on or before the deadline for that course.

Details of how to submit your coursework are provided on the relevant course page in the VLE.
Materials and aids permitted within the examination room

The following regulations may change during the academic year. Please refer to your Admission Notice for the final confirmed regulations.

4.6

For some courses you will be given materials with the question paper, such as graph paper, accounting paper or statistical tables, for use in the examination. The provision and permitted use of these materials is subject to change.

4.7

We will not provide calculators. In examinations that permit their use, you are responsible for providing your own calculator, making sure that it meets the conditions set out below and is in working order for the examination. You should make sure that you have a spare calculator (which also meets the conditions set out below) in case your calculator fails during the examination, or you must be prepared to continue the examination without a calculator. You are not allowed to borrow another student’s calculator during the examination. If you use a calculator in an examination, you must write the name and type of calculator you used on your examination script.

4.8

If you are allowed to use a calculator in an examination, you must keep to the conditions listed below, unless the course description or the information provided with your admission notice tells you otherwise.

Calculators must:

- be non-scientific;
- be non-programmable; and
- not be capable of receiving, storing or displaying user-supplied non-numerical data.

You must not use a calculator that communicates or displays textual, graphical or algebraic information (other than error messages). If you use a calculator that does not meet all of these conditions, you will be considered to have committed an assessment offence.

Where calculators are permitted, only calculators limited to performing just basic arithmetic operations may be used. This is to encourage candidates to show the examiners the steps taken in arriving at the answer.

See Section 8 of the General Regulations for information on assessment offences.

4.9

For the following courses, you may bring your own calculator into the examination hall:

- AC1025 Principles of accounting
- AC3059 Financial management
- AC2091 Financial reporting
- AC2097 Management accounting
- AC3143 Valuation and securities analysis
- EC2020 Elements of econometrics
- EC2066 Microeconomics
- EC3015 Economics of labour
• EC3115  Monetary economics
• FN1024  Principles of banking and finance
• FN2029  Financial intermediation
• FN2190  Asset pricing and financial markets
• FN2191  Principles of corporate finance
• FN3023  Investment management
• FN3092  Corporate finance
• FN3142  Quantitative finance
• MN2028  Managerial economics
• MN2032  Management science methods
• MN3119  Strategy
• MT2076  Management mathematics
• MT3095  Further mathematics for economists
• SC2145  Social research methods
• ST104A  Statistics 1
• ST104B  Statistics 2
• ST2133  Advanced statistics: distribution theory
• ST2134  Advanced statistics: statistical inference

Statutes

A definitive list of statutes and other materials permitted in the examination hall is sent out with the admission notice/timetable.

4.10

We will not provide statutes or other documents in the examination room. However, you will be allowed to bring the statutes and other materials listed in the subject syllabuses into the examination room. You are allowed to use any edition of the permitted statutes, although you are strongly advised to use the most recent one.

Where statutes or statutory instruments are listed at the end of individual syllabuses this means a ‘Queen’s Printer’ copy of the statute or statutory instrument or a photocopy of a ‘Queen’s Printer’ copy or a ‘Print’ (PDF) copy (but not a ‘Web’ (HTML) copy) downloaded from the Office of Public Sector Information website and a ‘Queen’s Printer’ copy of any later statute amending or repealing those statutes. ‘Queen’s Printer’ copies must be of the full original statute or statutory instrument and not of the statute or statutory instrument as reprinted in a case book or statute book.

The details of statutes and other documents given in the syllabuses are subject to revision by the Board of Examiners and will be superseded by the consolidated list of statutes and other materials which will be circulated to you with the timetable.

You may underline and/or highlight passages with a coloured pen in the materials, but all other forms of personal annotation on statutes and other materials permitted to be taken into the examination room are strictly forbidden. You may highlight different passages with different coloured pens. You are forbidden to attach self-adhesive notelets or index tags or any other paper to the pages of statute books or other permitted materials.
5  Number of attempts permitted at an examination

To be considered to have made an attempt at an examination, you must register for a course, enter the examination for it and attend the examination.

5.1

You may have a maximum of three attempts at the examination for each course of an EMFSS degree.

5.2

You may have a maximum of two attempts at the examination for each course of a Graduate Diploma.

5.3

If you are not yet eligible for your award, you are required to either:

- make a further attempt at all failed courses, provided the maximum number of attempts has not been exhausted; or
- substitute a failed course with an alternative course where the programme structure allows.

5.4

You will not be allowed to make a further attempt at a course if you fail it at the final attempt. If eligible, you will be able to choose:

- to continue on the programme you are registered for, and replace the failed course with an alternative course. This is only possible if:
  o it is permitted in the programme structure, and o if you can still meet all other requirements for the award, and o in the case of a degree, the failed course is not a prerequisite for a compulsory course.
- (for degrees through the Standard Route only) to continue the degree, carrying the course to classification. You can only do this if the failed course is not a prerequisite for a compulsory course and you can still meet all other requirements for the award of the degree;
- to transfer to another degree or Graduate Diploma governed by these Regulations, provided that you meet the conditions for transfer.

If you cannot meet the requirements for your award or the conditions for transfer, your registration will cease.

5.6

Once the Board of Examiners decides that you are eligible for a degree or Graduate Diploma award, it will be awarded and you will not be permitted to make any further attempts at any failed courses or to substitute any failed courses with alternative courses.
5.7

If you progress from the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences or one of the Diplomas to an EMFSS degree, you must carry failed courses with you if they are compulsory courses on the degree you are transferring to.

Any failed courses which are available but not compulsory on the degree you are transferring to, may either:

- be carried and retaken provided you have not exhausted the maximum number of attempts, keeping the remaining number of attempts at the course; or
- be discarded and you can change to an alternative course.

Failed courses which are not available on the degree you are transferring to must be discarded.

Although absence from an examination will not count towards the number of attempts for that course, if you have made an examination entry and are then absent, you will need to pay an examination re-entry fee the next time you enter the examination.

6. Mitigating circumstances during the examination session

See the mitigating circumstances page on our website for details of what mitigating circumstances are and how to submit a request to us.

6.1

If you enter one or more examinations and experience difficulties immediately before or during the examination period through illness or other adequate cause, you should immediately inform the Examinations Office, and provide a supporting medical certificate or other official documentation for the courses affected. The documentation must be received within the time period specified (see ‘Mitigating circumstances’ in Section 10 of the General Regulations).

6.2

If, despite difficulties as described in 6.1 above, you have attempted and passed your examination(s), the pass received will stand.

6.3

If you have attempted but failed an examination because of difficulties as described in 6.1 above, and the documentation you provided is accepted by the Board of Examiners, you may be given a result of Attempt not to count for that examination. The attempt will not count and you will be allowed to take the paper again without academic penalty. The attempt will not count towards the maximum number of attempts permitted.

6.4

If you have not attended an examination because of difficulties as described in 6.1 above, and the documentation you have provided is accepted by the Board of Examiners, you may be given a result of Absence certified for that examination. Absence will not count as an attempt and you will be allowed to take the paper again without academic penalty.
6.5
Although a course which receives a result of Absence certified or Attempt not to count is not counted as one of the permitted attempts, it will be treated as if it is a resit in terms of the number of courses you are allowed to sit in future examination sessions.

6.6
If you receive a result of Attempt not to count or of Absence certified for a course which is a prerequisite for a 200 or 300 course, you may take the 200 or 300 course at the same time as retaking the prerequisite course provided all other prerequisites are satisfied.

Special circumstances for Standard Entry Route degree students entering to complete their programme of study in the same year

6.7
If you registered for the degree in 2015-16 or earlier:
If you have mitigating circumstances accepted for one or two examinations but are otherwise eligible for the award of a degree through the Standard Entry Route, the Board of Examiners will take this into consideration and may, in exceptional circumstances, classify you on the marks available, or consider you for an alternative award.

If your mitigating circumstances are accepted but the marks for two courses are fails and you want to accept the award you will drop a class of award, as outlined in regulations 4.7 – 4.10 of Appendix D: Scheme of Award.

If you registered for the degree in 2016-17 or later:
If you have mitigating circumstances accepted for one examination but are otherwise eligible for the award of a degree through the Standard Entry Route, the Board of Examiners will take this into consideration and may, in exceptional circumstances, classify you on the marks available, or consider you for an alternative award.

See the General Regulations for more information about awards made in exceptional circumstances.
7 Progression within the programme

See Section 4: Assessment for the programme for the method of assessment and Section 5: Number of attempts permitted at an examination for the number of attempts allowed at an examination.

All students

7.1
In line with the regulations, you may decide the number of examinations you attempt each year and the order in which you decide to attempt each examination. You do not have to be examined each year.

Standard Route degree students

7.2
You must pass (or have been granted APL for) at least two full 100 courses (or equivalent) before you are permitted to register for any 200 or 300 courses.

7.3
In your first year of study, you can only register for 100 courses unless you have been granted APL for at least two full 100 courses (or equivalent).

Regulations 7.2 and 7.3 do not apply to Graduate Entry Route students.

All degree students

7.4
In the years that you enter for examinations, you are not allowed to register or enter examinations for more than four new courses (i.e. courses you have not been examined in before) in an academic year. The only exception to this is if you meet the requirements in regulation 7.6 below.

7.5
In the years that you enter for examinations, you are allowed to register and enter examinations for a minimum of one half course and a maximum of five courses, in either a combination of new courses and resits (with a maximum of four new full courses) or resits only, in an academic year.

7.6
In the academic year you enter to complete your degree you are allowed to register and enter examinations for a maximum of five new courses, but only if you are not required to register and enter for any resit examinations. This is strictly only permitted if this enables you to attempt to complete your degree.

7.7
You must keep to the prerequisites, co-requisites, exclusions and other rules that apply for the courses you study. Apart from where these rules apply, you may enter for courses in any order.

Details of prerequisites, co-requisites, exclusions and other rules are given in the programme structures in Appendix A.
7.8
You are allowed to take one additional course as an Individual Course under the Individual Courses Regulations provided that you do not take exceed the maximum number of courses set out in 7.4 – 7.6 above. An individual course cannot be used as credit towards your degree when taken during your degree registration.

Graduate Diplomas

7.9
In the years that you enter for examinations, you are allowed to take a minimum of one new half course and a maximum of four new full courses (or equivalent) plus any number of resits in an academic year.

7.10
There are no co-requisites or prerequisites for courses of the Graduate Diplomas. You may enter for courses in any order.

Resitting failed courses

Degrees

Resitting compulsory (named) courses

7.11
If you fail a compulsory course, you must register and enter to resit it the next time you take an examination. If you have failed more than one compulsory course, you must register for and resit at least one the next time you sit an examination.

7.12
You cannot register and make an exam entry for any new courses unless you also register and enter the examination for all remaining failed compulsory courses.

Resitting unnamed courses and named alternative courses

7.13
If you fail an unnamed course or a course for which named alternatives are available, you can choose to either:

- re-register for and resit the failed course; or
- swap the failed course for a another course which can fit at that point of the programme structure.

7.14
You can choose to register for and resit an unnamed or named alternative course in any future examination session within your remaining period of registration.

7.15
If you choose to swap your failed course for another course but also have outstanding fails at compulsory courses, you must meet the requirements in regulation 6.22 and resit these failed compulsory courses before or at the same time you are examined in the course you have substituted.
7.16
If you have registered for a substitute course to replace the course you have failed, you will not be permitted to return and reregister for the original course at any point during your registration.

Graduate Diploma

7.17
If you fail any course you may choose to register for and resit it, or substitute it where the structure permits, in any subsequent examination session within your remaining period of registration.

8 Transfer of registration

This section applies both to transfer between different programmes and within the same programme, unless indicated otherwise. Details of how to apply to transfer are in the Student guide.

For entrance requirements, see the Requirements tab on each of the programme pages on our website.

Transfer between programmes within the EMFSS suite

8.1
If you transfer between programmes within the EMFSS suite in any of the ways outlined below, all courses studied will be displayed on your final transcript when you receive your award. This includes courses which are discarded upon transfer.

Transfer between degrees in the same Route (or Paths of the same degree)

8.2
You may transfer between the different EMFSS degrees in the Route that you are registered on (i.e. Standard Route or Graduate Entry Route), and may be awarded credit, provided that:

- you do not have to discard more than three full courses in total which you have previously passed, and
- you have not failed, at the final attempt, a course that is a prerequisite for a compulsory course on the degree you want to transfer to, and
- this is allowed on the degree structure you want to transfer to, and
- you are not yet eligible for award of the degree.

You may only transfer to a degree which is still available to new students.

8.3
If you meet the conditions and want to transfer, you will need to confirm which degree (or Path where applicable) you want to register on when completing continuing registration and submitting payment of the annual continuing registration fee, and before completing the examination entry process. You cannot transfer when you have made an examination entry for the coming examination session.
8.4
When you transfer you are allowed to discard up to three full courses you have already passed and any number of failed courses. You can transfer more than once but cannot discard more than three full passed courses in total during your registration. If you have already discarded three full passed courses you may not transfer again if further discards are required.

The rules for discarding courses are in regulations 8.30 – 8.39.

Transfer between degrees in different Routes

8.5
If you are registered for a Graduate Entry Route degree you may apply to us to transfer to a Standard Route degree provided that:

- you do not have to discard more than three full passed courses in total, and
- you do not transfer credit for more than eight full passed courses in total, and
- you have not failed, at the final attempt, a course that is a prerequisite for a compulsory course on the degree you want to transfer to.

8.6
If you are registered for a Standard Route degree you may apply to us to transfer to a Graduate Entry Route degree provided that:

- you already meet the entrance requirements for the Graduate Entry Route, and
- you do not have to discard more than three full passed courses in total and
- you do not transfer credit for more than six full passed courses in total, and
- you have not failed, at the final attempt, a course that is a prerequisite for a compulsory course on the degree you want to transfer to, and
- you have not entered the examination for a course that has a prerequisite for which you have received APL whilst registered for the Standard Route. This is because you will have to discard the APL on transfer to the Graduate Entry Route.

Credits awarded on transfers between degrees

8.7
You will be credited with courses previously passed which are the same as, or equivalent to, those listed in the structure of the degree you are transferring to. Courses you have passed which are not available (or equivalent) on the degree that you are transferring to may have to be discarded.

See Appendix A for programme structures.
Further information on credit can be found in 8.12 – 8.13.
Please refer to 8.30 – 8.39 for the rules on discarding courses.

8.8
If you are credited with an unnamed 100 course on the basis of IS1060 Introduction to information systems, you will not be allowed to take IS2136 Information systems and organisations if available on the degree you transfer to.
8.9

This regulation also applies if you are transferring to a degree from the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences, a Diploma or an Individual Course.

If you pass the examination for MT1174 Calculus or MT1186 Mathematical methods and then transfer to a degree which has the half courses MT105A Mathematics 1 and/or MT105B Mathematics 2 in the programme structure, MT1174 or MT1186 will be discarded and you will be awarded APL for MT105A and MT105B where applicable. You will not be required to attempt the examination for MT105A and/or MT105B.

This also applies if you pass MT105A Mathematics 1 and/or MT105B Mathematics 2 and then transfer to a degree which has MT1174 Calculus or MT1186 Mathematical methods in the programme structure.

Where only MT105A is compulsory on the new structure, APL for MT105B may be credited at a point on the structure marked with a black diamond (♦). You will also need another half course to be paired with it at this point.

APL on transfer to the degree (Graduate Entry Route)

8.10

You are not allowed to transfer APL which has been previously awarded whilst registered for another programme to a degree through the Graduate Entry Route.

If you are awarded APL from a course whilst registered for a degree through the Standard Route, you will be required to attempt the examination for that course if it is a compulsory course on the Graduate Entry Route structure you are transferring to.

APL on transfer between the degrees (Standard Route)

8.11

APL (including APL from an unnamed course) can be transferred automatically between degrees through the Standard Route provided that:

- the course is available on the degree to which you are transferring (or, in the case of APL from an unnamed course, that this is allowed on that degree structure); and
- the APL is still valid.

8.12

If you transfer to a different degree through the Standard Route, an APL previously granted from a named course may be used as one unnamed 100 course if the named course is not available on the degree you are transferring to.

Credit awarded

8.13

Credits are awarded for named courses. However, if you are transferring to a degree through the Standard Route you may claim credit for one unnamed 100 course if you have previously passed a 100 course which is not available on the degree you are transferring to (where the degree structure allows). If you are credited with one unnamed 100 course, it will be placed at the point marked by the black diamond symbol (♦) on the individual degree structures. Credits for named and unnamed courses may be used to meet prerequisites.
8.14

If you transfer you will not be allowed to enter or re-enter for a course (or equivalent course) that you have previously passed and received credit for. The mark you achieved when you passed the course will count towards the final classification of degree.

Treatment of failed courses with attempts remaining

8.15

If you have failed a course and have attempts remaining, you must carry the course and the attempts with you if it is compulsory on the degree you are transferring to.

If you have failed a course which is available as an optional course (either from a list or from a Selection group) on the degree you are transferring to, you can either:

- carry and retake the course (up to the maximum three attempts). You will be allowed the same remaining number of attempts at the course, or
- discard the course and register for an alternative optional course.

Failed courses which are not available on the degree you are transferring to must be discarded.

The rules for discarding courses are in paragraphs 8.30 – 8.39.

Treatment of failed courses with no attempts remaining

8.16

If you have failed a course at the third attempt, this may affect your ability to transfer. Permission to transfer will depend on the following conditions, as applicable:

To transfer to a Standard Route degree:

i. You will not be able to transfer to a degree where the failed course is a prerequisite for a compulsory course.

ii. If the failed course is a compulsory course on the degree you want to transfer to, you must carry it forward to the new degree (subject to point i. above). This is only allowed if you can also meet all the other requirements for the degree. The course will count towards the total number of courses that must be taken to meet the requirements of the degree, and the most recent mark obtained in the failed course may count towards the degree classification.

iii. If the failed course is available as an option on the degree you want to transfer to, you may either:
   - discard the failed course and take a different or alternative course, or
   - carry the failed course to the new degree. This is only allowed if you can also meet all other requirements for the degree.

   If you choose to carry the failed course, it will count towards the total number of courses that must be taken to meet the requirements of the degree, and the most recent mark obtained in the failed course may count towards the degree classification.

To transfer to a Graduate Entry Route degree:

i. You will not be able to transfer to a degree where the failed course is a compulsory course.

   No failed courses may be carried forward on transfer to a different degree and must be discarded.
Transfer to a degree from a Graduate Diploma

8.17
You are not allowed to transfer your registration to a degree. To register for a degree, you must cancel your registration and apply afresh. To apply for the degree you must meet the relevant entrance requirements. If we allow you to register for the degree, you will not be allowed to carry credit for any courses passed or carry any failed attempts at courses from your previous registration.

Transfer between the Graduate Diplomas

8.18
You can apply to transfer between Graduate Diplomas provided that you:

- do not have to discard more than one full course in total which you have previously passed, and
- have not failed, at the final attempt, a course which is compulsory (and has no alternatives) for the programme you want to transfer to, and
- satisfy the entrance requirements for the programme you want to transfer to.

If you are transferring from the Graduate Diploma in International Relations you must ensure that you are able to satisfy the mathematical programme specific entrance requirements needed for all the other Graduate Diplomas. For entrance requirements, see the Requirements tab on your intended Graduate Diploma programme.

If you are transferring to the Graduate Diploma in Mathematics, you will need to meet the additional programme-specific entrance requirements given in regulation 8.23. You are also advised that although this is not a formal entrance requirement, it is your responsibility to ensure that before starting this programme your understanding of mathematics is already at least at the standard of first year undergraduate degree study in mathematics and includes multivariate calculus.

If you are transferring to the Graduate Diploma in Economics or are planning on taking 200 or 300 level courses with the prefix EC you are advised that, although not a formal entrance requirement, it is your responsibility to ensure that your understanding of economics is already at the standard of first year undergraduate degree study in economics before commencing your studies.

You must apply to us if you want to transfer between Graduate Diplomas. If you are registered on a Diploma for Graduates and want to transfer, you will be allowed to transfer to the new award title of Graduate Diploma only.

Credits awarded

8.20
If you transfer between the Graduate Diploma you will be credited with courses previously passed which are the same as (or equivalent to) those listed in the structure of the relevant diploma, as long as the transfer takes place within the maximum period of registration.

See Appendix A for the programme structures.
8.21

If you cannot be credited with a course or retake a course on transfer because it is not available (and has no equivalent course) on the Graduate Diploma that you are transferring to, this course must be discarded.

The rules for discarding courses are in paragraphs 8.30 – 8.39.

Treatment of previously failed courses

8.22

If you transfer between the Graduate Diplomas, you must carry any fails with you if the courses are compulsory and have no alternatives on the programme you are transferring to.

Failed courses that have alternative options available on the programme you are transferring to can either:

- be carried and retaken (provided you have not exhausted the maximum two examination attempts), or
- be changed to an alternative course, carrying the remaining number of examination attempts at the course.

Failed courses which are not available on the Graduate Diploma you are transferring to must be discarded.

Transfer to a Graduate Diploma from a degree

8.23

You cannot transfer to a Graduate Diploma from a degree. To register for a Graduate Diploma, you must cancel your registration, apply to register afresh and meet the relevant entrance requirements. If your application is approved, you will not be allowed to carry passes or fails from your previous registration.

Transfer to the Graduate Diploma in Mathematics or the BSc Mathematics and Economics from other eligible programmes

8.24

To transfer to the Graduate Diploma in Mathematics or the BSc Mathematics and Economics, you must meet the higher mathematics requirements of the programme. You will need to have either passed an EMFSS mathematics course or half course (a course with an MT course code), or provide evidence of a GCE A Level pass (or equivalent) in a mathematical subject.

The equivalency of a number of qualifications can be found in the Qualifications for Entrance section of the website.

Transfer to the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences from a degree

8.25

If you are registered on an EMFSS degree and have made an attempt at the examination for one or more courses, you will not be allowed to transfer your registration to the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences.

If you have not made an attempt at an examination and can meet the entrance and attendance requirements for the Certificate of Higher Education is Social Sciences, you may apply to transfer.
8.26
To register for the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences when transfer is not allowed, you must cancel your registration and apply to register again, and will also need to meet the relevant entrance requirements. If you are allowed to register again in this way, you will not be allowed to carry any passes or fails from your previous registration.

Transfer to the Diploma in Economics or Diploma in Social Sciences from any other EMFSS programme
8.27
Transfer to the Diploma in Economics or Diploma in Social Sciences is not allowed, as these programmes are being withdrawn.

Transfer to the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences from a Graduate Diploma
8.28
If you registered for a Graduate Diploma you will not be allowed to transfer your registration to the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences.

8.29
To register for the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences, you must cancel your registration for the Graduate Diploma, apply to register again and meet the relevant entrance requirements. If you are allowed to register again in this way, you will not be allowed to carry credit for any courses previously passed or to carry any failed attempts at courses from your previous registration.

Discarding and reviving courses on transfer
8.30
If you transfer between the degrees, between the Graduate Diplomas, or from the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences or one of the Diplomas to a degree, you may have to discard certain courses on transfer.

8.31
If you discard a passed course on transfer to another programme, you will be able to continue to use that course to meet the prerequisite requirements of other courses.

8.32
A course must be discarded if it:
- cannot be credited, or
- cannot be retaken on transfer because there is no option to take it (or no equivalent course available which can be credited) on the programme you are transferring to.
8.33

For students transferring between or to degrees only:

You cannot discard passed courses unless you are transferring. Permission to discard both passed and failed courses depends on the structure of the degree that you plan to transfer to as follows:

- You will not be allowed to discard any course (either passed or failed) that is compulsory on the degree you are transferring to.
- You will not be allowed to discard or change any single passed half course if it can be paired with another half course on the degree you are transferring to. If it cannot be paired then you must contact us for permission to discard it.
- You will not be allowed to discard or change a passed course that is one of two named course options at a point on the degree.
- You may discard a failed course that is one of two named course options at a point on the degree, and take the other named option.

If the course is not named on the programme structure but is available (for example as an option in a Selection group), you may choose whether to transfer or discard the course, as long as you do not discard more than three full passed courses (or equivalent) in total.

8.34

For Graduate Diploma students only:

You may discard one full course only. You will not be allowed to discard any course that is available on the Graduate Diploma that you are transferring to.

8.35

Discarded courses will not count towards the total number of courses that you are required to take for the programme you are registered on, and will not contribute towards the classification/grading calculation unless the course is revived in a later transfer.

8.36

Discarded courses may normally be revived in later transfer as follows:

- A passed course which has been discarded must be revived if you transfer to a degree or Graduate Diploma which that course is available on.
- A failed course which has been discarded must be revived if it is compulsory and has no alternatives on the degree or Graduate Diploma you are transferring to. You will be allowed the same remaining number of attempts.
- A failed course which has been discarded and which is not compulsory on the degree or Graduate Diploma you are transferring to can either be revived or, where possible, changed to another option.
- For degrees through the Standard Route only: if you transfer to a degree where a course is compulsory and you have discarded APL for that course previously, the APL must be revived. This can only be done in line with the maximum four APL courses that are allowed on a degree.

A course that has been revived will no longer count towards the total permitted number of discarded courses.
8.38
When you pay your continuing registration fee and when you make an examination entry you must advise us if you are reviving any previously discarded courses.

8.39
If you transfer from the Certificate of Higher Education in Social Sciences or one of the Diplomas, you must write to us through the Student Portal if you are reviving any previously discarded courses when you pay the continuing registration fee.

Transfer to an EMFSS degree from the LLB degree

8.40
If you are registered for the LLB degree but want to register for an EMFSS degree instead, you must contact us via your Student Portal. To be eligible for an EMFSS degree you will need to meet the entrance requirements and may be asked to provide additional information.

8.41
If you have passed courses on the LLB degree, you may apply to be awarded credits where they can be placed on the degree structure, but this will be strictly at our discretion. Credits will only be awarded for 100 level courses (i.e. courses in Selection group F2). If you have failed courses on the LLB, these will not be transferred to your record on an EMFSS degree.

Moving from the LLB to BSc Accounting with Law or BSc Management with Law

If you have attempted the first year courses of the LLB and then wish to cancel your registration and register for the BSc Accounting with Law or BSc Management with Law, the following options are available:

- If you were registered on the LLB (Old Regulations only) and you have achieved an overall result of ‘fail’ from the courses available in Selection Group F2, you may apply to register on the BSc Accounting with Law or BSc Management with Law, but will not be awarded any credit. When you take these courses as part of the BSc Accounting with Law or BSc Management with Law, they will be treated as first attempts.
- If you are registered for the LLB and have passed all of the courses available in Selection Group F2 you may apply to register on the BSc Accounting with Law or BSc Management with Law with credit for up to three full courses depending on the programme to which you transfer. We will decide the amount of credit you will receive and will make this decision on a case by case basis.
- If you are registered for the LLB but you have failed one of the courses available in Selection Group F2 you may apply to register on the BSc Accounting with Law or BSc Management with Law with credit for up to two full courses. We will decide the amount of credit you will receive and will make this decision on a case by case basis.

Transfer to an EMFSS degree from other programmes

8.43
If you are registered for a programme other than in the fields of Economics, Management, Finance and the Social Sciences you may apply to transfer to an EMFSS degree through the Standard Route or Graduate Entry Route, provided that you meet the entrance requirements.
Course codes are given next to the course title in this appendix of the Programme Regulations. Course codes show the subject area, course level and the unique course number. It is explained in the following example:

MN1178 Business and management in a global context
MN - shows the subject area
1 - shows that this is a 100 level course
178 - shows the number of the course

The subject areas are:
AC - Accounting
DV - Development
EC - Economics
FN - Finance
GY - Geography
IR - International Relations
IS - Information Systems
LA - Law
MN - Management
MT - Mathematics
PS - Politics
SC - Sociology
SP - Social Psychology
ST - Statistics

All courses listed on the structures are full courses unless indicated otherwise. Rules and exclusions concerning course choice are given in the syllabuses in the Course Information Sheets. These can be accessed by clicking the link on the course name.

Appendix B – Accreditation of Prior Learning

Accreditation of prior learning (APL) has previously been called ‘exemption’ by the University of London.

APL is the recognition of previously acquired learning which can be mapped against particular learning outcomes of courses within a programme. If you are awarded APL for a specific course, you will be exempt from taking this course. It means that you are considered to have completed the course for the purposes of progression within the programme. The mark obtained for a qualification for which APL has been awarded will not be carried forward to your record and will not contribute towards the award.

The University reserves the right not to award APL if the qualification of the respective professional body or institution changes after publication.

The Table of Automatic Accreditation of Prior Learning can be found on the University of London website: https://london.ac.uk/sites/default/files/regulations/emfss_apl_automatic.pdf

Appendix D – Scheme of award

Introduction

The guidelines presented below show the main characteristics of the schemes used for the assessment of students within the Economics, Management, Finance and the Social Sciences (EMFSS) programmes, and the criteria used when classifying degree students and grading Graduate Diploma students at the end of their studies. This information is necessarily abbreviated and it does not cover all special cases that the Board of Examiners may have to consider.

The Board of Examiners retains the right to deviate from, or suspend, any part of these guidelines for good reason and in the interest of academic standards and/or fairness to students.

The date of award will be 1 August in the year of the last examination that contributes to the award.

Guidelines applying to all programmes

1. Award of marks for courses

1.1

The marking standards for all courses are the same as for campus-based students of the University of London sitting equivalent degree examinations.

1.2

100, 200 and 300 courses are marked to the same standard. For degree classification and Graduate Diploma grading purposes, 200 and 300 courses normally carry more weight than 100 courses.

1.3

The Examiners will determine a percentage mark for each course attempted based on the following scales:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Degree Class</th>
<th>Graduate Diploma</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First Class Honours</td>
<td>Distinction</td>
<td>70 – 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Upper Second Class Honours</td>
<td>Merit</td>
<td>60 – 69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lower Second Class Honours</td>
<td>Pass</td>
<td>50 – 59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Third Class Honours</td>
<td>Pass</td>
<td>40 – 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fail</td>
<td>Fail</td>
<td>0 – 39</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
2. Failed courses and resits

2.1
If you are not eligible for award of the degree or Graduate Diploma, you are required to make a further attempt at all failed courses (provided the maximum number of attempts has not been exhausted), or to substitute failed courses with alternative courses where permitted in the relevant programme structure.

2.2
Once you are eligible for award of the degree or Graduate Diploma, you will not be permitted to make any further attempts at any failed courses or to substitute any failed courses with alternative courses, even if you have not reached the maximum number of attempts allowed.

2.3
In all cases, marks are based on those obtained at the latest attempt at the relevant course.

3. Pairing of half courses

3.1
Half courses are paired and averaged (rounded up to a whole number) to produce marks for classification/grading purposes.

3.2
A fail in one half course of a pair counts as a half course fail in assessing the number of courses passed.

3.3
100 half courses cannot be paired with 200 or 300 half courses.

100 courses

3.4
Courses are paired according to the following criteria in the order given.
1. Any two 100 half courses named together at one point in the programme structure are paired.
2. If both have been taken, ST104A Statistics 1 + ST104B Statistics 2 are paired.
3. If both have been taken, MT105A Mathematics 1 + MT105B Mathematics 2 are paired.
4. After the above criteria have been applied, any remaining 100 half courses are paired according to the marks awarded, as follows: the two half courses with the highest marks are paired, then the two with the next highest marks.
200 and 300 courses

3.5

Courses are paired according to the following criteria in the order given.

1. Any two 200 or 300 half courses named together at one point in the programme structure are paired.

2. If there are precisely two half courses from any particular Selection group, these are paired. If there are more than two half courses from a Selection group, this rule does not apply to that Selection group and the criteria below are applied.

3. If both have been taken, ST2133 Advanced Statistics: distribution theory + ST2134 Advanced Statistics: statistical inference are paired.

4. After the above criteria have been applied, any remaining 200 or 300 half courses are paired according to the marks awarded, as follows: the two half courses with the highest marks are paired, then those with the next highest marks, repeating until all half courses are paired.

Degrees through the Standard Route only

3.6

If you have failed one half course of a pair and are eligible for award of the degree, then the mark for that pair of half courses will be the average of the marks obtained. This may result in either a pass or a fail mark for the course as a whole. A half course fail will count on its own, along with any other fail marks, for determining the class band of the degree as a whole.

See regulations 4.7 - 4.10 in Appendix D for how course and half course failures can affect the class band.

Where APL has been granted for a half course of a pair, the mark for the pair will be the mark obtained in the half course taken.
Degrees through the Standard Route

4. Eligibility for the award of a degree

4.1

For students registered for a degree in 2015-16 and earlier:

The Board of Examiners will consider you eligible for award of the degree through the Standard Route when the following three conditions have all been fulfilled:

1. You must have attempted every element of the assessment for 12 full courses or the equivalent, as specified in the structure for the degree (any APL awarded will count towards the 12 courses attempted).

2. You must have passed at least 10 full courses or the equivalent (any APL awarded will count towards the total of 10 courses).

3. You must have resat all failed courses from previous years for which the maximum number of attempts has not been exhausted, or, where the structure of the degree permits, substituted an alternative for a failed course.

If you are registered on a degree from 2015-16 and earlier, once you have attempted 12 courses and passed 10, you will need to contact the University and advise if you want to continue with your registration and make further attempts at one or both of the failed courses.

For students registered for a degree for the first time in 2016-17 (including students who have transferred to a degree from another programme):

The Board of Examiners will consider a student eligible for award of the degree through the Standard Route when the following three conditions have all been fulfilled:

1. You must have attempted every element of the assessment for 12 full courses or the equivalent, as specified in the structure for the degree (any APL awarded will count towards the 12 courses attempted).

2. You must have passed at least 11 full courses or the equivalent (any APL awarded will count towards the total of 11 courses).

3. You must have resat all failed courses from previous years for which the maximum number of attempts has not been exhausted, or, where the structure of the degree permits, substituted an alternative for a failed course.

In the year in which you intend to be awarded a degree, you must, in order to meet condition 3 in 4.1, resit the examination for any failed course from previous years which you are counting towards the degree and for which the maximum number of attempts has not been exhausted, or, if the structure of the degree permits, substitute it with an alternative course.

4.3

When considering your eligibility for award of the degree, the Board of Examiners will give special consideration if you have been absent from one or more examinations through illness or other adequate cause.
4.4

Once the Board of Examiners decides that you are eligible for award of the degree, the degree will be awarded and you will not be permitted to make any further attempts at any failed courses or to substitute any failed courses with alternative courses.

4.5

Once the award and classification of the degree have been confirmed by the Board of Examiners, you cannot refuse or decline the award or its classification. The decision of the Board of Examiners is final.

4.6

Failure in up to one full course or the equivalent will normally not affect your classification.

For students registered on a degree in 2015-16 and earlier:

4.7

Failure in two full courses will normally lead to an award one class lower than that indicated by your marks according to the classification scheme (given in paragraph 6.4 below).

4.8

Failure in one and a half courses where the half course is not paired to produce a pass will normally lead to an award one class lower than that indicated by your marks according to the classification scheme (given in paragraph 5.4 below).

4.9

Failure in one and a half courses where the half course is paired to produce a pass will not normally lead to an award one class lower than that indicated by your marks according to the classification scheme (given in paragraph 5.4 below).

If your marks indicate a Third Class Classification, and the above rule concerning 1 and a half or 2 fails under 4.8 and 4.9 are applied, then a Pass Classification will be awarded, provided the Board of Examiners is satisfied that all other regulations have been fulfilled.

5.  Degree classification

5.1

200 and 300 courses normally carry more weight than 100 courses. Marks for 200 and 300 courses are counted individually and in some cases as an average, depending on the number of 100 courses taken and the number of APLs granted. 100 courses count for up to two marks only.

5.2

If you are eligible for the award of a degree through the Standard Route, you will be classified according to the classification scheme (given in 5.4 below) on the basis of nine marks, and, where appropriate, the aggregate of those nine marks.
5.3

The nine marks on which the classification is based are drawn from the following.

1. The marks for all 200 and 300 courses considered individually.

2. If eight 200 and 300 courses and four 100 courses have been attempted, the \textit{ninth} mark is the average of the best three 100 courses.

3. If seven 200 and 300 courses and five 100 courses have been attempted, the \textit{eighth} mark is the average of the best two 100 courses, and the \textit{ninth} mark is the average of the next best two 100 courses.

4. Where you have been granted APL from one or more 100 courses and have taken 100 courses to bring your total of granted APL and 100 courses to four then:
   a. if you have been granted APL for one course, the \textit{ninth} mark is calculated in the usual way
   b. if you have been granted APL for two courses, the \textit{ninth} mark is the average of the two 100 courses taken
   c. if you have been granted APL for three courses, the \textit{ninth} mark is the 100 course taken
   d. if you have been granted APL for four courses, the \textit{ninth} mark is the average of all the 200 and 300 courses taken.

5. Where you have been granted APL from one or more 100 courses and have taken 100 courses to bring your total of granted APL and 100 courses to five then:
   a. if you have been granted APL for one course, the \textit{eighth} mark is the average of the best two 100 courses and the \textit{ninth} mark is the average of the remaining two 100 courses
   b. if you have been granted APL for two courses, the \textit{eighth} mark is the average of the best two 100 courses taken, and the \textit{ninth} mark is the remaining 100 course taken
   c. if you have been granted APL for three courses, both the \textit{eighth} and \textit{ninth} marks are the marks of the two 100 courses taken
   d. if you have been granted APL for four courses, the \textit{eighth} mark is the mark of the single 100 course taken and the \textit{ninth} mark is the average of all the 200 and 300 courses taken.

Degrees through the Graduate Entry Route

6. Eligibility for the award of a degree

6.1
The Board of Examiners will consider you eligible for award of the degree through the Graduate Entry Route when you have attempted every element of the assessment for nine full courses or the equivalent, and passed all nine full courses or the equivalent.

7. Degree classification

7.1
200 and 300 courses normally carry more weight than 100 courses. Marks for 200 and 300 courses are counted individually. 100 courses will count for two marks. If more than two 100 courses are taken, the marks for the 100 courses will be subject to an averaging process described below to create two marks to be used for classification.

7.2
If you are eligible for the award of a degree through the Graduate Entry Route having attempted, and passed in, nine full courses or the equivalent, you will be classified on the marks treated as indicated in 7.3 below, according to the classification scheme (given in 7.4 below) and, where appropriate, the aggregate of all nine individual marks.

7.3
The marks on which the classification is based are determined as follows:

1. If two 100 courses have been attempted, the marks for those courses will count individually. The marks for the seven 200 and 300 courses attempted will also count individually.

2. If three 100 courses have been attempted, the lowest two marks will be averaged and the third mark will count individually. The marks for the six 200 and 300 courses will count individually.

3. If four 100 courses have been attempted, the highest two marks will be averaged and the remaining two marks averaged. The marks for the five 200 and 300 courses will count individually.

7.4
The minimum requirements for the classification scheme are as follows.

Graduate Diplomas

8. Eligibility for the award of a Graduate Diploma

8.1 If you have attempted every element of the assessment for four full courses or the equivalent, and passed all four full courses or the equivalent, you will be eligible for the award of a Graduate Diploma.

9. Graduate Diploma grading scheme

9.1 For you to be awarded a Graduate Diploma with Distinction or Merit, all four marks must be 40 or higher.

9.2 You may only be awarded a graded Graduate Diploma if you have taken no more than one resit (of a full or half course).

9.3 The minimum requirements for the grading scheme are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>

Exit awards

10. Eligibility for an exit award

10.1

If you are registered on a degree (either Standard Route or Graduate Entry Route) and you are unable to complete your studies, you may be eligible to receive an exit award.

10.2

The minimum requirements for exit awards are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Diploma of Higher Education (DipHE)</th>
<th>Awarded to students who have:</th>
