When to pay

The University's closing date for applications is 1 October. If your application is successful, you will receive an offer inviting you to register. Once you have received an offer from the University, you should inform the institution at which you plan to study. You should then complete your registration with the University of London and pay the University's fees.

In order to be registered with the University as a University of London Student, you will need to pay the total fee in full when you first register. The closing date for initial registration is 15 October.

Examinations take place in late April each year and you can apply to sit your examination from mid-December to the closing date of 1 February. Students will also need to pay their local examination centre fees as part of their examination entry.

Students invited to the resit session in July will receive separate instructions about how to pay their examination re-entry fee and the entry deadline with their invite.

The continuing registration fee is payable if you wish to maintain your registration in a second or third year of registration at the time when you complete the continuing registration task each year. The closing date for continuing registration is 15 October.

If you decide to choose an alternative course to the one you originally registered for (and it is permitted by the Regulations), you must pay a New Course fee.

If you successfully complete the International Foundation Programme, you can apply to transfer your registration (within six months of your award date) to an undergraduate programme in the University of London's Economics, Management, Finance and Social Sciences (EMFSS) programme suite. There is no transfer fee but in the year that you transfer your registration, you will need to pay the continuing registration fee for your new programme (the continuing registration fee varies for each programme so please refer to the Fee Schedules for further information). The closing date for transfers is 30 November.

Other costs

In addition to the Programme Fees payable to the University, you should also budget for textbooks (this will depend on your course selection and you should consult with your institution first) and tuition costs for your teaching institution.

You should also budget for the fee charged by your local examination centre. Examination centre fees are not included within the fees set out above. This fee will vary from centre to centre and you should contact your proposed examination centre(s) for details of their fees to factor them in to the overall cost of completing the programme. You can find contact details for all our examination centres. The University of London is only responsible for the examination centre fee charged at London centres. You will be charged £65 per sitting when using London examination centres.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

On 1 July 2017 a Goods and Services Tax \(GST\) was introduced in India which applies to online services. From 1 August 2019, the University will be required to add GST at the statutory rate of 18% to its programme fees for new and continuing students resident in India.

Please note

Programme Fees are subject to annual revision and typically may be increased by up to 5% per annum.

Generally, students whose fees are paid by sponsors will be expected to correspond directly with their sponsor regarding Programme Fees. The University can provide an invoice, if needed, upon request. Materials and VLE access will not be available until Programme Fees have been received.
